

Competition time!

How's this for a cool idea -

We are asking each Mango Music student to write a mini blog post for us.

We will publish them all over the next few months with their name and photo alongside.

We will also chose our favorite mini blog post and give away this free amplifier which can be used for a guitar, bass, keyboard or electric drum kit. (see below)

Topics might include things such as:

- Your experience at Mango Music
- Your love for playing and learning
- Your fav band/ artist
- An experience you have had at a gig/ concert
- Your goals as a musician
- Why you love your instrument
- What you love about taking lessons with us
- Your opinion on music in your school
- Or any other topic related to music, performance, or us.

This is a great opportunity to write a short article and get it out there.
It also helps us with creating content online.

Send over a paragraph or two to info@mangomusic.org with a photo (silly or serious).
Or whatsapp it.

Remember - our favorite gets the prize!
